

Post-implementation Reviews: Required

Post-implementation Reviews (PIRs) are required for proposals that have substantial impacts, for proposals granted an exemption from the Government's RIS requirements by the Prime Minister, and for proposals that were non-compliant with the Government's RIS requirements. PIRs should be completed within two years of implementation where exceptional circumstances were granted or a proposal was assessed as non-compliant. PIRs should be completed within five years of implementation for proposals likely to have a substantial impact.

The status of Post-implementation Reviews (PIRs) required is updated regularly as the Office of Best Practice Regulation receives information from departments and agencies.

As of 1 December 2018, fifteen PIRs are yet to be completed. Of these, three are currently non-compliant as they have not been completed in the required timeframe.

Information on PIRs that are completed and published can be found in the associated table, Post-implementation Reviews: Completed and Published.

The post-implementation review guidance note<sup>1</sup> provides advice on the preparation of PIRs and compliance with the Government's requirements.
